

Marilyn Kleiber

Member of HWG since July of 2010.

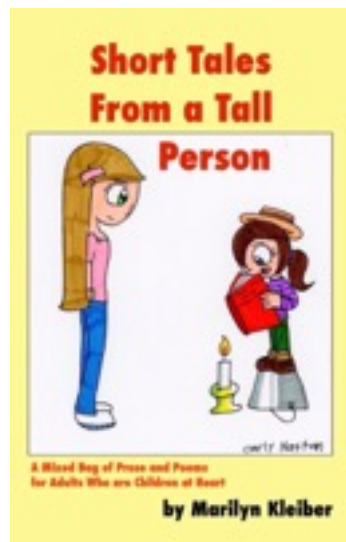

The opportunities for writing from prompts have been of value to me. I finally gathered together a series of my short story and have had them published as a collection.

The book is carried in a number of libraries around Ontario, is for sale in Booklore in Orangeville and Roxanne's in Fergus

I am in the process of putting together a further collection of humorous stories for another book.

One of my short stories, which began in an HWG meeting went on to win a prize in the Alice Munro Short Story Contest

My first collection is called Short Tales from a Tall Person, and is available on Amazon worldwide, and Kindle worldwide.

I am currently in the process of writing a seven-book Myth/Fantasy chronicle, and am 1/3 of the way into the first novel.

In addition to writing, I have mentored students in the art of grammar. I am currently teaching a series of courses on writing, including the following:

1. Everything You Need to Know About Self-Publishing
2. Learn to Self-Edit and Save Money
3. Advance Your Own Writing by Critiquing
4. Advanced Writing Techniques

5. Creating Memorable and Believable Characters
6. Building a Story From the Bones Out
7. Marketing Your Book: On and Off-line
8. Writing Great Dialogue
9. Selling More at Readings and Signings
10. Writing the Short Story

My Business is as a Publisher.

In that context, I am a substantive editor, cover designer and a general publishing editor.
